

LPG Odorant Package odorizer

■ Odorant Packages are used to add aromatic agents to gases. The most usual usage is adding Ethanethiol (Ethyl Mercaptan) which has a distinct odor to LPG to make any possible leakage noticeable. Ethanethiol is intentionally added to butane and propane to impart an easily noticed smell to these normally odorless fuels that pose the threat of fire, explosion, and asphyxiation.

